On 13 October 2026, a new Joint Ministerial Decision (JMD) on age assessments was issued to align with provisions of the Pact on Migration and Asylum. Key differences from the previous JMD, issued in 2025, include:

- The assessment begins with a physical and psychological evaluation. X-ray examination is only conducted when the physical and psychological evaluations do not agree with each other. In addition, the requirement to complete all three tests on the same day has been removed.
- When an applicant refuses in writing to undergo a medical examination for the purposes of age assessment, this leads to a presumption of adulthood (as was the case before), which is now confirmed by a formal decision on the applicants adulthood.

The full text of the JMD is available here (in Greek).
