European Commission launches an awareness-raising campaign to tackle trafficking in human beings

The European Commission launched a multilingual, EU-wide awareness-raising campaign on 25 February 2026 to tackle human trafficking. The campaign "End human trafficking. Break the invisible chain" aims to shed light on trafficking, inform citizens about the signs, on how to receive support and report suspected cases in each respective EU Member State.

More information about the campaign and multilingual campaign material are available on the European Commission website here.
