Ministry of Justice and Public Security issues instructions to UDI on accommodation of applicants

The Ministry of Justice and Public Security issued instructions to the Norwegian Directorate of Immigration (UDI) on the accommodation of applicants for international protection. The UDI's overarching objective in the field of asylum accommodation is to ensure that accommodation is offered to foreign nationals applying for protection. In its work on asylum accommodation, the UDI should take into account and balance several different considerations, including the ministry's other guidelines and priorities, as well as the applicable budgetary framework.
