Assistance to unaccompanied minors

Legislative changes have been introduced with the Law XIV-946 of 17 march 2022 to ensure unaccompanied children fleeing war are linked to a legal guardian as soon as possible. No child in Lithuania can be without a legal representative, which is important not only in order to ensure a safe environment for children, but also in the provision of various benefits and services. Persons who are accompanying a minor who is not their biological child may apply to become their guardians by registering with the Migration Department. The State Child Rights Protection and Adoption Service specified that there is no possibility of adopting children from Ukraine.

Accommodation

A specific reception algorithm has been set up to ensure a safe environment, proper care and the necessary assistance for children from Ukraine coming from war. It lays down the actions and rules of cooperation between the institutions. According to this algorithm, municipalities, non-governmental organisations or private individuals are required to report Ukrainian children entering or arriving in Lithuania to the State Child Rights Protection and Adoption Service or its territorial division. Additionally, if a group of children arrives in Lithuania, this information must be shared with Ministry of Social Security and Labour that helps to coordinate with the municipality in relation to ensuring children accommodation place.

Children's rights protection professionals will ensure that the child has a legal representative, assess child's situation, hear the child and register his/her details. The municipalities will continue to take care of the child's well-being by providing services, place of residence, etc.

Children arriving in larger groups, e.g., from children care institutions in Ukraine are accommodated together in Lithuania without separating children from each other. Currently (as of May 2, 2022), 43 children from Ukrainian children care institutions or other groups of children live in Trakai, 21 Visaginas, 12 Kaunas, 163 Kulautuva, 23 Panevėžys, 8 Raseiniai, 5 Švenčionėliai. Other municipalities are also consulted to find suitable places for groups of children if needed. A further 1037 children entered Lithuania with others, e.g. relatives or persons with emotional ties (friends, neighbours, etc.) with the child. Overall there are 1312 unaccompanied minors.

Institutions wishing to provide social care to children coming from Ukraine to Lithuania must obtain a license in the Department of Supervision of Social Services under the Ministry of Social Security and Labour. After receiving the license, they must notify the municipality in which they will operate.

Education

Unaccompanied children have the same educational rights as accompanied children and can access school and the in schools and kindergartens services provided by municipal education divisions where guardians have been appointed. See above for further details.

Accommodation, social services, food packages, clothing, hygiene products, and medicines are provided. Psychological and emotional counselling is offered. Legal services, including representation, are available, as well as state-guaranteed legal aid. Information and assistance are provided regarding temporary protection status, asylum applications, and other related matters. Unaccompanied minors are enrolled in general education schools according to their age. They receive educational support and intensive Lithuanian language instruction (through additional lessons and preparatory classes or groups). Lithuanian language classes are also held in the Agency's reception centres. Social and cultural activities are organised to support children's integration into society. Access to medical care is ensured, including emergency health services. The Agency assesses the vulnerability of arriving individuals (including unaccompanied minors) and submits its conclusions to the Migration Department. In Lithuania, unaccompanied minors are treated the same as other children and are granted all applicable social guarantees.

Assistance to people with special needs

Persons with disabilities and people of retirement age can be entitled to social assistance pensions. Applications can be made in person at the State Social Insurance Fund Board's "Sodra" offices or online.

Targeted compensation (care allowances) support for permanent care and permanent care (assistance) are provided to the persons with special nursing or care (assistance) needs. Ukrainian people who have certain functional disorders could be assessed for disability according to Lithuanian legislation. Information is available on Migration Department dedicated pages.

Individuals with special nursing or care needs may receive targeted compensation, ranging from €75.6 to €327.6, depending on their level of impairment. Ukrainian citizens with functional disorders can be assessed for disability under Lithuanian law, following the same procedure as Lithuanian residents. Once assessed, they are entitled to social services, financial support, and disability benefits.

Support measures for disabled individuals and caregivers include housing adaptation, technical assistance (mobility, hearing, and visual aids), personal assistance for daily activities, and mobile teams promoting mobility and independence. Social services, such as counselling, hygiene support, crisis management, and respite care, are available based on individual needs. Municipalities organize these services, ensuring access to temporary and long-term care. Interpreter services, personal assistance, and other technical aids are also provided to those in need.

Trafficking on human beings
