As of 24 June 2025, the Norwegian Ministry of Justice and Public Security has decided to suspend the processing of asylum applications from Syrian nationals and stateless persons from Syria for up to 6 months, until 24 December 2025.

The decision follows earlier steps taken by the Norwegian Directorate of Immigration (UDI) on 9 December 2024 to pause such applications due to the uncertain situation in Syria following the fall of the Assad regime. The ministry cites emerging signs of potential improvement in the country's conditions as the reason for the formal suspension

Source(s)

- Norwegian Directorate of Immigration | Utlendingsdirektoratet (24 June, 2025), Behandlingen av asylsøknader fra personer fra Syria stilles i bero [The processing of asylum applications from people from Syria is put on hold], https://www.udi.no/aktuelt/behandlingen-av-asylsoknader-fra-personer-fra-syria-stilles-i-bero/

Date of development
24.06.2025
Country
Norway
Thematic area(s)
First instance determination, Assessment of applications
Development type
Institutional

© European Union Agency for Asylum, 2026. Reproduction is authorised, provided the source is acknowledged.
Document generated on 30-10-2026
For more information, please contact: ias@euaa.europa.eu