Competent authority and stakeholders

Authority responsible for reception	Migration Office of the Ministry of the Interior of the Slovak Republic   Migračný úrad Ministerstvo vnútra SR have the overall responsibility for reception
Other actors involved	The Migration Office closely cooperates with the Ministry of Labour, Social Affairs and Family to provide care for unaccompanied minors. The Ministry of Labour, Social Affairs and Family is responsible for the reception of unaccompanied minors, as well as providing legal guardians for them and all relevant actions (e.g. BIC assessment, applying for asylum, etc.). The Migration Office is responsible for the asylum procedure. Support centres of the Ministry of the Interior provide building maintenance, technical support and repairs in accommodation facilities. The Migration Office also cooperates with NGOs (e.g. the Slovak Humanitarian Council, the Human Rights League), international organisations (e.g. IOM, UNHCR), which carry out activities like Slovak language courses, psychological and legal counselling, free-time activities and provide additional non-food items.

Organisational aspects

Reception is managed at a central level. The Migration Office is responsible for managing different kinds of reception facilities: reception centres, accommodation facilities and the integration centre. Building maintenance, technical support and repairs are provided by the Support Centres operating under the Ministry of the Interior.

Allocation of applicants to geographical areas within their territory

All applicants stay at the initial reception centre in Humenné for 3-4 weeks. After the health check results are received, they are transferred to one of the two accommodation centres in Opatovská Nová Ves for vulnerable groups (except unaccompanied minors whose reception is under the Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs) or Rohovce for men for the rest of the asylum procedure.

Staff and training

There is no exact ratio of staff to applicants as the need for services is not determined by the number of applicants but by various individual factors, such as health status and degree of dependency. The authority reacts dynamically and flexibly, mainly through short-term contracts.

The employees of the Migration Office can attend training courses organised by state institutions, international organisations and the EUAA.

Reception phases

Applicants are entitled to material reception conditions from the moment of registration at the Reception Centre in Humenné.

After arrival, all applicants will stay at the initial reception centre in Humenné for 3-4 weeks, where health and security checks are carried out.

Once health check results have been issued, applicants are transferred to one of the two accommodation centres where they reside for the rest of the asylum procedure.

If international protection is granted, beneficiaries can request to stay in the centre even after the decision enters into force until they are transferred to the integration project. Beneficiaries of international protection may request the Migration Office for accommodation in the integration centre in Zvolen, which is designed as a temporary accommodation facility.

Applicants who receive a negative decision are provided with housing, food and personal hygiene products until the decision enters into force. If applicants request a voluntary return assisted by the IOM, they can request to stay at the centre until the day of their return to the country of origin.

Contingency planning

The National Contingency Plan of the Slovak Republic in the Field of International Protection was adopted in April 2025. The main objective of the measures proposed in the national plan is to ensure adequate asylum and reception systems, with an emphasis on procedural guarantees for vulnerable applicants, including unaccompanied minors. The measures mainly aim to increase and expand accommodation capacity, maintain the functionality of the asylum system when there are an increased number of applications for international protection, and prevent the asylum system from becoming completely overloaded and dysfunctional.

During an increased number of asylum seekers, it is necessary to focus on optimising processes and prioritising activities in all departments of the Ministry of the Interior. At the same time, measures should be taken to ensure readiness for the next phase of the escalation of migration pressure, mainly in the area of increasing human, material and financial capacities.

Facilities

Level of healthcare	Asylum applicants are entitled to necessary medical care both in initial reception and accommodation centres. Necessary healthcare includes both physical and mental healthcare. An applicant who is not covered by public health insurance and is not insured in another state is entitled to reimbursement for necessary healthcare. Applicants are entitled to necessary dental care outside of the reception or accommodation centre. Supplementary healthcare, psychological support and other mental healthcare in reception and accommodation centres are provided by NGOs.
Access to healthcare	All applicants have the right to receive necessary medical care. Necessary healthcare includes also care for physical and mental health.

Education for minors

Minor applicants must attend a Slovak language course and are subject to compulsory school attendance. Adult applicants are welcome to attend the Slovak language course.

Socio-cultural orientation and language learning

Applicants are encouraged to take part in the following activities, while being at the reception/asylum facilities:

- Slovak language courses
- Cultural orientation sessions, which explain the culture and norms of Slovak society. It also provides practical skills, e.g. preparing the CV, looking for a suitable job, understanding the labour market, school system and healthcare system in Slovakia.

Both activities are voluntary and attendance heavily depends on the attitude and will of the applicants themselves, so far there is no compulsory element in place. The Migration Office's social workers are obliged to inform applicants about the socio-cultural orientation classes during the information provision upon arrival at the facility. To date, a mechanism has not been established to make participation mandatory. The classes are organised according to the profile of applicants, for example for larger groups of applicants from one country, a poster is put up with information on the date, time and topic; otherwise the applicant is approached individually.

During socio-cultural orientation classes, social workers cooperate with the NGO Slovak Humanitarian Council (SHR) in all facilities. They hold jointly conducted lessons. Cultural mediators from SHR plan trips with applicants to attend leisure activities so that they learn the theory in practice (the applicants are encouraged to try in practice the knowledge they acquired during the courses, e.g. to buy bus/train tickets independently, etc.). They are also introduced to the practical and cultural aspects of life in Slovakia directly during the trips and other free-time activities.

cultural orientation

The choice of the topic of socio-cultural orientation classes depends on several factors, in particular what stage of the stay in the national reception system the applicants are in (stay in the initial reception centre vs in accommodation centre), their previous knowledge, literacy, etc. For example, in the initial reception centre they are preferably briefed on what to expect during the asylum procedure and the stay in the accommodation centre, basic aspects of Slovak culture and legislation are highlighted (punctuality, gender equality, proper childcare, etc.), while in accommodation centres, applicants are briefed on topics like managing finances, practical skills training (CV writing, job interview process, shopping

Language classes	The Migration Office cooperates with SHR for the provision of Slovak language courses. Slovak language classes are provided by SHR. They take place 2 to 3 times a week, the planned classes are posted on the SHR noticeboard next to the classroom. When there are more applicants who are interested, the teacher usually divides them into two groups according to level (beginner/advanced), when the numbers of applicants are low, they are in one class, but the teacher gives them individual attention. In the event that the scope of classes is not enough for the applicant, the social worker/SHR cultural mediators can provide tutoring upon agreement with the applicant. Applicants are also provided with a list of websites and links to videos with Slovak language classes for foreigners.

Sufficient means

Arrangement of private accommodation

The Ministry may allow applicants to stay outside of reception structures following a written request if:

- They are capable of covering all the expenses related their stay using their own funds.
- A Slovak citizen with a permanent residence in Slovakia or a foreign citizen who has been granted residence in Slovakia submits a written statutory declaration that they will facilitate the accommodation of the applicant and cover all expenses related to their stay.

Applicants living outside reception facilities still retain the right to emergency healthcare.

Contribution to reception and healthcare costs

Persons with sufficient means, for example those who are employed or have another source of income amounting to at least the minimum subsistence level for one adult, may be requested to cover at least partial expenses related to their stay in reception, accommodation or integration centres, or costs related to medical care.

Sufficient means test

Information not available.

Sanction regimes, reduction or withdrawal of material reception conditions

Circumstances for reducing or withdrawing material reception conditions

The Act on Asylum specifies that material reception condition may be reduced when:

- an applicants submit a new application after their first application had been discontinued;
- an applicant tries to illegally enter the territory of another country;
- an applicant voluntarily left Slovakia and returns;
- an applicant is employed or has a source of income amounting to at least the subsistence minimum level for one adult person;
- The Ministry of Interior issues a decision mandating applicants to adequately cover the expenses relating to their stay in reception facilities or the cost of medical care, if their financial and proprietary circumstances are such that it is possible to request from them at least a partial payment of the expenses relating to their stay.

Possible sanctions and procedure

For violations of obligations set out in law, applicants may have their pocket money withdrawn. In such cases, a formal decision is issued by the Ministry of the Interior.

Review of the sanction decision

Applicants can submit an appeal against the decision to withdraw pocket money, but this administrative action will not have a suspensive effect.
